

Declaration of Transgender Rights

We, the parents of transgender children from across the United States, representing various ethnicities, socioeconomic backgrounds, and faith communities, express our determination to protect the inalienable rights of all people, regardless of gender identity, and insist upon the basic protections for our children and families.

We are incredibly proud of our transgender children. They have shown our families and the world a courage and authenticity that has filled our hearts and opened our minds. Their lives enrich our homes, our schools, and our communities. We have recently seen many pivotal changes that signal a brighter future.

Despite our progress, we see our children growing up in a world where equality for all is not yet guaranteed—where transgender students are targeted for mistreatment, where transgender workers routinely face discrimination, and where 17 transgender people - mostly trans women of color - have been killed this year alone.

We've seen critical and lifesaving nationwide guidance promoting the protection and safety of our children rolled back by the Trump-Pence Administration and our children exposed to harassment, bullying, and assault at the hands of many who have been empowered by the dangerous rhetoric of politicians like President Donald Trump, Vice President Mike Pence, and Texas Lt. Gov Dan Patrick.

We see our children ostracized and discriminated against in their schools, compromising their ability to learn and succeed academically and socially.

We see our children face a future of disproportionate risk of poverty, homelessness, and unemployment.

We see our children too often denied basic health care, not only for medically necessary gender-affirming services, but also for basic, preventive, and emergency care unrelated to gender identity.

We see that when transphobia is coupled with racism, the impact of these intersecting oppressions on our transgender children of color is devastating - and sometimes fatal. We see that our transgender children of color face, on average, higher rates of abuse, assault, incarceration, discrimination, poverty, and lack of access of healthcare than their white transgender counterparts.

We see our children and their transgender peers face increased risk of mental illnesses and tragically high rates of suicide as a result of widespread bullying and discrimination.

We see these realities, and recognize that as parents, we must provoke change not only in the eyes of the law, but in the hearts and minds of parents who struggle to accept and support their own transgender children and to further expand the growing ranks of parents without transgender children who serve as allies in this vital cause. We see these realities, and recognize that our nation holds an, as yet unfulfilled, promise of equality and freedom. A demand for transgender justice is not a demand for preferential treatment, but rather an insistence upon the fundamental and equal significance of every person on this earth, regardless of gender identity.

In the face of these tragic realities, we insist upon a brighter future for our children.

We seek universal respect, dignity, and the promise of safety for our children, and for all transgender people.

We seek for our children, and all transgender people, protections from discrimination, violence, and harassment in all public spaces, including restrooms, as a fundamental right of all people no matter their state or zip code.

We seek safety from violence for all transgender people, particularly transgender women of color.

We seek equal access to an education free of shame and fear, as is the right of all children.

We seek to support those already working tirelessly to foster affirming school environments for our children.

We seek full equality in the workplace, protection from discrimination by employers and coworkers, equal opportunity in employment, and a promise of fair compensation for labor.

We seek the reinstatement of the Title IX guidance from the Department of Justice and the Department of Education, intended to protect those with marginalized gender identities.

We seek criminal justice reforms that combat the mass incarceration of people of color, including transgender people of color.

We seek open service in the military, and assurance that the transgender individuals in active duty and in retirement--as well as the transgender children, transgender spouses, and transgender family members of military personnel and veterans--receive protections and access to comprehensive, affirming healthcare.

We seek to have our government - at all levels - protect those vulnerable transgender children for whom personal well-being is not fostered at home.

We seek the unencumbered provision of life-affirming treatments to transgender individuals through both public and private healthcare.

We seek, in recognition of the fact that we inhabit many different intersections of identity, that our government and communities work to combat racism, classism, xenophobia, Islamophobia, anti-Semitism, ableism, sexism, homophobia, and transphobia, with the understanding that the total eradication of one form of hate is not possible without the eradication of all others.

May this document affirm a continuing commitment to our moral obligation as both individuals and a nation, and as our re-dedication to fulfilling the American Dream for all our children.

Signed,
