GLSEN®

DEAR CLASS OF 2020,

Congratulations on making it to this day, and on all the hard work, grit, creativity and drive that got you here. I know many of you had to overcome extraordinary obstacles to achieve this moment. We are deeply proud of each and every one of you, and I know that the strength and skill that brought you here will serve you well in the future.

I also know that in this moment that future must feel painfully unclear. Some of you may not yet know what your next step is. Some of you may have had to return to unwelcoming or unaffirming families. Some of you are struggling to find a safe place to call home. Some of you have lost loved ones, and all of you have lost a semester of experiences with friends, educators and fellow students. This is a time of loss and of deep uncertainty.

But if so much is uncertain, I want you to know one thing that is guaranteed: The LGBTQ community sees you, and we are here to support you. We will continue to fight for you to ensure that each of you has the resources and rights you need and deserve.

I have no doubt you will make your own mark in our shared journey towards visibility, justice and equality.

For us to achieve the north star of full equality, we need each and every one of you. You are the dreamers of the future. So keep fighting, and remember that there is strength in unity, that there is strength in community, that there is strength in your joy and your laughter and your taking each day as it comes.

You should be incredibly proud — not only of all that you have achieved, but of all that you continue to achieve every day: by living your truth in whatever way feels safe and right for you, by showing up for each other and by being the smart and determined person that you are.

So keep shining. We have your back every step of the way. Congratulations again on this accomplishment.

In Unity,

Alphonso David

President, Human Rights Campaign
He/Him/His

CONGRATULATIONS AND THANK YOU.

Congratulations and thank you, LGBTQ+ graduates! You've made it to the finish line, despite all the obstacles in your way.

Along the way, with your visibility, your advocacy, and your determination, you've changed the world — for you, and for everyone who will come after. Thank you.

All of us at GLSEN are so proud to celebrate you today, and to have had the chance to partner with the 1,000,000 LGBTQ+ students who take part in our initiatives in K-12 schools each year.

Many of you fought hard to be included in your school's graduation as your authentic selves. I am so sorry that you have had this moment taken from you by a world turned upside down.

At the same time, I am so grateful for the example so many of you have set over the past few weeks, as you have found new ways to stay connected, sustain your communities, and keep organizing for change through these tumultuous times. (Not surprising given that, as a group, you are among the most civically-engaged of all high school students!)

No matter who you are, where you are, or how out you are currently able to be, please remember that the resilience that enabled you to make it through school will always be your superpower. And there is a proud and purposeful community that will always be by your side.

Congratulations on your achievements. Thank you for your inspiration. Never forget and never discount what it means that you made it to this day.

With Admiration,

Eliza Byard

ABOUT THE HUMAN RIGHTS CAMPAIGN AND FOUNDATION

As the largest civil rights organization working to achieve equality for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer Americans, the Human Rights Campaign represents a force of more than 3 million members and supporters nationwide — all committed to making HRC's vision a reality.

HRC envisions a world where lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer people are embraced as full members of society at home, at work and in every community.

The Human Rights Campaign Foundation improves the lives of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer (LGBTQ) people by working to increase understanding and encourage the adoption of LGBTQ-inclusive policies and practices.

We build support for LGBTQ people among families and friends, co-workers and employers, pastors and parishioners, doctors and teachers, neighbors, and the general public. Through the following programs and projects, we are enhancing the lived experiences of LGBTQ people and their families, as we change hearts and minds across America and around the globe.

ABOUT GLSEN

GLSEN exists to create safe and affirming schools for all K-12 students, regardless of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. No young person should have to choose between their wellbeing and an education. GLSEN partners with schools, educators, systems leaders, and communities to reduce the victimization of LGBTQ+ youth and set the course for a safer, more equitable future.

Each year, GLSEN's programs and initiatives reach hundreds of thousands of students through our national Days of Action, GSA support, and leadership development programming. More than 50,000 people access our free online resources annually, and we provide professional development trainings to at least 10,000 educators each year.

Founded in 1990 by a group of teachers concerned with the treatment of LGBTQ+ students in their schools, GLSEN's work has produced measurable improvements in the lives of LGBTQ+ students across the United States, and launched an international movement to reduce violence and discrimination against LGBTQ+ people in primary and secondary education. GLSEN is headquartered in New York City with a Policy Office in Washington D.C., supports a network of 44 Chapters in 32 states, and partners with 60 organizations in 40 countries around the world, all pressing towards our common goal of safe and affirming schools for all.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

The Honorable Maxine Waters,
US House of Representatives
She/Her

Congresswoman Maxine Waters is considered by many to be one of the most powerful women in American politics today. She has gained a reputation as a fearless and outspoken advocate for women, children, people of color and the poor.

Elected in November 2018 to her fifteenth term in the U.S. House of Representatives with more than 70 percent of the vote in the 43rd Congressional District of California, Congresswoman Waters represents a large part of South Los Angeles including the communities of Westchester, Playa Del Rey, and Watts and the unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County comprised of Lennox, West Athens, West Carson, Harbor Gateway and El Camino Village. The 43rd District also includes the diverse cities of Gardena, Hawthorne, Inglewood, Lawndale, Lomita and Torrance.

Congresswoman Waters made history as the first woman and first African American Chair of the House Financial Services Committee. An integral member of Congressional Democratic Leadership, Congresswoman Waters serves as a member of the Steering & Policy Committee and is the Co-Chair of the bipartisan Congressional Task Force on Alzheimer's Disease. She is also a member of the Congressional Progressive Caucus, and member and past chair of the Congressional Black Caucus.

Maxine Waters was born in St. Louis, Missouri, the fifth of 13 children reared by a single mother. She began working at age 13 in factories and segregated restaurants. After moving to Los Angeles, she worked in garment factories and at the telephone company. She attended California State University at Los Angeles, where she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree. She began her career in public service as a teacher and a volunteer coordinator in the Head Start program.

She is married to Sidney Williams, the former U.S. Ambassador to the Commonwealth of the Bahamas. She is the mother of two adult children, Edward and Karen, and has two grandchildren.

SPEAKER PROFILES

Michael Vazquez | He/Him

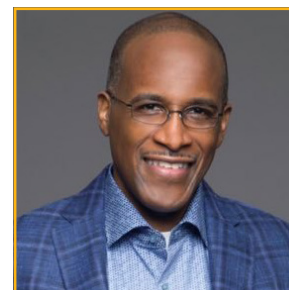

Michael Vazquez is an experienced public theologian, homiletician, and community organizer who has worked to advance justice and inclusion in religious spaces — affecting institutional policy change and changing the public narrative in support of the LGBTQ community and communities of color.

With an astute mind for both theology and policy, Vazquez serves as the director of the Human Rights Campaign Foundation's Religion and Faith Program, leading the organization's efforts to advance equity initiatives in faith communities and helping policy makers to understand how their faith calls them to advance pro-equity legislation.

Before joining HRC, Vazquez served as the Founder and co-Executive Director of Brave Commons, an LGBTQ advocacy organization serving at Christian Colleges and Universities around the United States. While at Brave Commons, Vazquez trained LGBTQ students in organizing, strategic communications and policy negotiation. A former InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA campus staff, Vazquez has also served as an organizing fellow at Faith in Public Life and helped launch the Vine & Fig Collective.

Vazquez holds a Master of Theological Studies from the Divinity School at Duke University, where he focused on the relationship between religion and politics, and his thesis on queer homiletics examines how queerness and rhetoric provide a framework for advancing liberation and building just societies.

He grew up in a military family traveling the world before going on to get a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from Weber State University. Vazquez is a devout Catholic and lives in Washington, D.C.

Walter Kimbrough, Ph.D. | He/Him

A native of Atlanta, Dr. Walter M. Kimbrough was his high school salutatorian and student body president in 1985, and went on to earn degrees from the University of Georgia, Miami University in Ohio, and a doctorate in higher education from Georgia State University. He has enjoyed a fulfilling career in student affairs, serving at Emory University, Georgia State University, Old Dominion University, and finally Albany State University in 2000 where he became the Vice President for Student Affairs at the age of 32. In October of 2004, at the age of 37, he was named the 12th president of Philander Smith College. In 2012 he became the 7th president of Dillard University in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Kimbrough has been recognized for his research and writings on HBCUs and African American men in college. Kimbrough also has been noted for his active use of social media in articles by The Chronicle of Higher Education, and in the book Follow The Leader: Lessons in Social Media Success from Higher Ed CEOs. He was cited in 2017 by Dr. Josie Ahlquist as one of 20 college presidents you should follow on Instagram (@HipHopPrez), by Education Dive as one of 10 Twitter accounts every higher ed leader should follow (@HipHopPrez), and in 2015 he was named by The Best Schools.org as one of the 20 most interesting college presidents.

A 1986 initiate of the Zeta Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity at the University of Georgia, Kimbrough was the Alpha Phi Alpha College Brother of the Year for the Southern Region and served as the Southern Region Assistant Vice President. Dr. Kimbrough has forged a national reputation as an expert on fraternities and sororities, with specific expertise regarding historically Black, Latin and Asian groups. He is the author of the book, Black Greek 101: The Culture, Customs and Challenges of Black Fraternities and Sororities.

SPEAKER PROFILES

Dr. Kimbrough was named the 1994 New Professional of the Year for the Association of Fraternity Advisors. In 2009, he was named by Diverse Issues in Higher Education as one of 25 To Watch. In 2010, he made the coveted Ebony Magazine Power 100 list of the doers and influencers in the African American community, joining the likes of President and Mrs. Obama, Jay-Z, and Tyler Perry. In February of 2013 he was named to NBC News/The Griot.com's 100 African Americans making history today, joining another impressive group including Kerry Washington, Mellody Hobson, and Kendrick Lamar. Kimbrough was named male HBCU President of the Year for 2014 by HBCU Digest.

Dr. Kimbrough and his wife Adria Nobles Kimbrough, attorney and director of the Dillard University pre-law program, are the proud parents of two children: Lydia Nicole, 12, and Benjamin Barack, 10.

Mark Anderson Ph.D. | He/Him

Mark Anderson is the principal of Marshall Fundamental Secondary School (grades 6-12) in Pasadena, California. As principal, Marshall has been lauded by the California Department of Education for Exemplary Arts Education and as a Gold Ribbon School, ranked by Los Angeles Magazine as the 8th best public or private high school in Los Angeles County, recognized by Newsweek as one of America's Top High Schools, received Silver Medals from US News & World Report, named to the California Business for Education Excellence Honor Roll, honored as a MetLife National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) Breakthrough School, awarded the Civic Learning Award of Excellence by the Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, and named the California Principal of the Year by both the Association of California School Administrators and NASSP.

Dr. Anderson began as an English teacher, then vice principal, learning director, and now principal. His passion and work have focused on helping culturally diverse students in urban Los Angeles be academically successful. As a vice principal he was named by both ACSA and NASSP as the California Co-administrator of the year, making him the only California school administrator to be named both the Assistant Principal and Principal of the year.

Dr. Anderson is an active member of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, the Association of California School Administrators (ACSA), and the National Association of Secondary School Administrators (NASSP). As principal, he maintains partnership with the local Kiwanis, Rotary, and Elks clubs; as well as CalTech, The Huntington Library and Gardens, the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, and Spokeo.

Dr. Anderson is a proud child of California public educators and works in the same area where he was raised, just east of Los Angeles. He received a BS in Business Management emphasizing Information Systems from Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah; his MA in Education Teaching from Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, California; and his PhD in Urban Education Leadership from Claremont Graduate University in Claremont, California researching students' and teachers' perceptions of cultural proficiency. He currently resides with his partner Mark, dog Marco, and cat Marquito.

Charles C. Patton Jr. | He/Him

Charles C. Patton is a native of Atlanta, GA, however, he was raised in Charlotte, NC with roots laid in Sumter, SC. Charles is the youngest son of Clinton Patton Jr. & Parisia Clyburn-Patton. From an early age, he expressed interest in sports, the arts, and medicinal practices. Playing basketball from the age of six, Charles was able to travel the country through his parents' non-profit organization Children Come 1st. It was through his service with Children Come 1st that he first began to see the beauty of giving back to and outside of the community. Participating in multiple community outreach programs, designed mainly for children and basketball, Charles began to develop a passion for service and explored other areas in which he could influence those around him.

Continuing into his high school career, Charles joined the High School Student Government Association his ninth-grade year, also making the Varsity Basketball Team and Marching Band. In tenth grade, Charles was elected as the Sophomore Class President implementing the first-class wide tutoring/social sessions during the year. He also filmed a short documentary on "Perception vs. Reality: Hidden Racism," where he tackled the issue of racism and how it has transformed into our present climate with the perspective of other students. Charles' junior year he moved to Sumter, SC attending Sumter High School, where he continued in the International Baccalaureate Program, High School Student Government Association, Marching Band, Swim Team, and Varsity Basketball. During his junior year, the basketball team won the IVA South Carolina State Championship. His senior year, Charles was elected the Senior Class President where he organized the first senior class trip Sumter High would have in nearly a decade. He also founded the Dunks-for-Diabetes Organization, which raised over $1,500 for diabetes research. This organization is still in place at Sumter High School and they continue the annual 3-on-3 basketball tournament to raise money for diabetes research. Charles was elected Mister Honors for the 2018-2019 school year as well as founded the first LGBTQIA+ GNC student-run organization on South Carolina State's campus – SCSU Safe Space. He, along with his dear friend Natasha McKnight, started a podcast "the RISE podcast" to push the ethos of consciousness even more on the campus of SC State and in the global community. He also served as a peer tutor, in Physics, Math, English, and Biology.

In April 2019, Charles was elected The 6th Mister South Carolina State University 2019-2020, on the platform "Let's R.A.G.E.: Radical Academics for Generational Enlightenment." He was featured as a CNN Correspondent to share his views on the upcoming Democratic Primary Elections as it relates to the minority vote and issues surrounding hate crimes in the LGBTQIA+ community and immigration. He started a fundraiser called "Raging Against Corona" for the underprivileged families in the Orangeburg community that need financial help through this lockdown of our nation. Inspired by his platform, "Let's R.A.G.E." he created "Readin' & Ragin' with Charles C Patton," which serves as a haven for individuals that yearn to inspire and awaken the light from within on our path for self-discovery. Earning his B.S. in Physics, he will be working with Microsoft Inc. and plans to earn his Ph.D. as well as own a private practice that specializes in the holistic treatment and research of chronic illnesses. He also plans to start a global nonprofit that services marginalized people in the areas of social justice, health, education, visual/performing arts, and other human necessities. He aims to "continue living my life as a voice for the voiceless, following the drumbeat of truth and love. Prancing through society with joyful trepidation, knowing the bliss can never truly die. As we all continue the beauty of life only becomes more profound. With each new era, the music carries on. I only pray we dance."

Jessica Chiriboga | She/Her

Jessica Chiriboga is a mixed-race lesbian and graduating senior from Glendora High School in Glendora, CA. Chiriboga is a second-year National Student Council member for GLSEN (the Gay, Lesbian, Straight Education Network), a national non-profit working to end discrimination, harassment, and bullying of LGBTQ+ students in K-12 schools. As a policy liaison and student leader, Chiriboga produces blog content for educators and coaches, curates a monthly policy newsletter, helps others through webinars and video content, and develops resources for students to use for GLSEN's national Days of Action. She brings her LGBTQ+ advocacy to her local high school as Vice President of her school's Gender-Sexuality Alliance. Working to achieve greater acceptance, advertisement, and annual participation in GLSEN's National Days of Action, she envisions a more inclusive school culture and enjoys welcoming her GSA members in the hallways. Most recently, she shared her story and action steps with over 180 of her district's high school and middle school teachers, to make classrooms safer and more inclusive of LGBTQ+ history and identities.

Jessica is also the founding president of NAMI Healthy Minds, a local club dedicated to destigmatizing mental illness. NAMI Healthy Minds organizes weekly Wellness Circles for students, fundraises for NAMIWalks Los Angeles, and organized the Glendora Unified School District's first ever Mental Health Awareness Month with participation of around 450 high schoolers and many more younger students and parents. In spring of 2019, NAMI Healthy Minds organized its first annual Mental Wellness Night that brought more than 70 students, parents, and community leaders to interact with self-care methods and mental health resources. Beyond her advocacy work, Jessica is a proud delegate of California YMCA Youth and Government. She has competed in the National Judicial Competition and was awarded the distinction of Outstanding Justice given to the top 3 justices in the competition. At school, she is the Student Council Vice President of Outreach, editor-in-chief of her school's newspaper, president of San Gabriel Valley YMCA Youth and Government, and an active member of the varsity tennis and varsity soccer teams. Jessica has a published Op-Ed in the Advocate and has been featured in the Washington Blade, Them., and Teen Vogue magazine.

Jessica is honored to be a Cameron Impact Scholar, receiving a four-year, full tuition scholarship to an American university of her choice as a positive impact-maker and leader. Beyond advocacy and leadership, her passions extend to history, the Supreme Court, and being a quadruplet. Jessica begins her first year at Dartmouth College in the Fall of 2020 and plans to continue her work.

Elle Smith | They/Them

Student activist Elle Smith is a black, queer, non-binary student who is dedicating their life to using their voice to generate positive social change. They entered high school searching for a community of people like them: people who were passionate about learning, growing, and making the world a better place. This quest led them to revive their school's dormant GSA, and they've led the group ever since. Elle has organized an annual Day of Silence, developed and delivered multiple LGBTQ+ inclusion trainings for staff, and advocated for safe spaces. With the hope of increasing the impact of GSAs in the Austin area, Elle founded a non-profit, the Central Texas GSA Coalition in January of 2019. Since then, the Coalition has attracted over 100 members from more than 20 schools (including charter and and homeschool students who may not otherwise have access to the life-saving impact of GSAs).

Elle, has won several essay contests for LGBTQ+ advocacy, and they are a published contributor to Trans+: Love, Sex, Romance, and Being You by Kathryn Gonzales and Karen Rayne. They are also GLSEN's 2019-2020 Student Advocate of the Year, a title that has granted them a platform to connect and engage with a nationwide network of changemakers. When they are not advocating for LGBTQ-inclusive policies or altering costumes for a show, you can find them reading philosophy, playing classical guitar, taking pictures for Instagram, or sewing clothes.
